Commission

Chief Investigator of Accidents

- Lead the accident investigation function
- General Manager position with strategic and organisational leadership
- Represent New Zealand in international forums

Position Purpose

We're seeking a skilled and experienced accident investigator to lead a multi mode accident investigations team, based in central Wellington.

This is a dual titled role – Chief Investigator of Accidents/General Manager Investigation Services, so you will be a key member of the Executive Management Team, actively providing high quality organisational, technical and functional leadership. You'll provide quality leadership and guidance to your team of skilled investigators, and expert advice and guidance to the Commission and wider audiences, as well as assisting internationally when required.

About TAIC

The Transport Accident Investigation Commission (TAIC) is an independent Crown entity, and investigates significant aviation, rail and marine accidents and incidents with a view to avoiding similar occurrences in the future. The Commission has set a visionary goal of "No Repeat Accidents – Ever!"

Thorough investigations are pivotal to the Commission's successful performance, and in this role you ensure continued high quality investigations across the three modes, with appropriate safety recommendations.

Position Competencies

Our ideal candidate will have:

- accident investigation experience in one or more of our transport modes - air, marine or rail
- safety management experience
- people leadership experience

- political nous, sound judgement and the ability to represent the organisation at all levels, nationally and internationally
- an understanding of quasi-judicial processes, particularly the rules and requirements applicable to a Commission of Inquiry, and
- be medically and physically fit to access accident sites, with the ability to travel at short notice.

This role presents an excellent career opportunity to apply your high quality accident investigation and leadership experience to a pivotal role in a well known Crown entity.

If this sounds like the role for you we look forward to receiving your application. Please click the APPLY NOW button. All applications will be acknowledged electronically.
